

KEVIN HEDLEY

CINEMATOGRAPHER • CAMERA OPERATOR

INTRODUCTION

Kevin Hedley is a forward thinking Cinematographer and Camera Operator. As a collaborator he's best described as an artist's artist bringing a worldly contemporary eye to his work. Finding the balance between the art and science behind an arresting image drives him.

In 2000 he started out as a Professional Photographer with his company Aklo Repro, shooting still life's of hand blown glass and sculpture for artists. Kevin quickly established himself as an outstanding Advertising, Interior, and Product specialist.

After 4 years of shooting stills Kevin was looking to expand his creative vision and started working closely with Atomic Clock Cinematic Arts and Director Grant Padley. Within a year he was regularly working as a DOP and Cinematographer with the company on projects for L'Oreal, Hermès, Absolut Vodka, and Starbucks.

Kevin is versatile in style with a creative background and an understanding of the artistic qualities of lighting and camera placement. This is most apparent in his recent commercial for the menswear line Bustle shot Fall 2008 and as of 2009 he's taken to Directing including projects for the Heart Truth, LG, and Joe Fresh Style.
